

Aoton 2015 PGI Retsina Attiki

Score 17.5/20

100% Savatiano. Tank fermentation, no oak.

Very interesting nose and hard to think there is no oak as there is a lightly creamy/mealy layer over the gorgeous smoky herbs, as if the rosemary had been smoked (though of course there is no rosemary in the wine, it has just been infused with the finest pine resin during fermentation). Much more winy on the palate, there's citrus depth and the herb flavours are not overbearing. Full bodied, full flavoured and yet still refined and quite delicious. Fine wine by any measure. (JH)

Producer	Aoton
Vintage	2015
Appellation	PGI Retsina Attiki
Region	Central Greece
Country	Greece
Score	17.5
Colour	White
Alcohol	12%
When to drink	2017 - 2021
Published	14 Jun 2017
Date tasted	18 May 2017
Reviewer	Julia Harding MW
Price/Stockist	£13.50 Southern Wine Roads